Workshop Testimonials:

Cathy Giles of We Are One United shared:

"We learned from each other and learned about each other. We got to know the people in our community and discovered organizations we can collaborate with. This was a win win. I loved being here. Everything about this was amazing."

Ti'Fani Law, Program Manager at Inland Empire Community Health Initiative, shared:

"The Grant Writing Academy provided me with tangible skills for grant writing. With interactive workshops and in-depth applications, I was able to find new and inventive ways to support my nonprofit and find new ways to access grants. One of the most important pieces was building logic models. Understanding the intricacies helped me better build out programs so funders felt more confident awarding grants because my programs were well developed."

Annette Patterson, Founder and Executive Director of Joshua Home, an LGBTQ+ Safe Haven, shared:

"I've realized that even though my organization is 12 years old, we are just getting started. Now I understand how to build a foundation for my organization to grow and sustain in the future."
